CESSFUL The American Jockey Club had the best day of its meeting yesterday, the weather being milder and more enjoyable than before, the track in finer con-dition, the attendance large, and the racing of exceptional quality and interest. The only unhappy people were the bookmakers, who were massacred in a pitiless manner. Public form was justified com-pletely both in first and second places in several races and the bookmakers' faces grew longer and their pockets lighter. Well, they have had many a profitable day and this was the public's turn. The management was even more successful than on pre-vious days, and there was no cause for complaint passengers by the 12:55 special from the Grand Central had plenty of time to bet and to see the start. It was officially announced that hereafter the first race will not be run until the 12:55 special has

So strong a favorite was Diable in the first race, in which the special weight conditions allowed him to run at only 115 pounds, that it was hard to get over $100 to $300 against him. McLaughlin was up, and he never gave the backers of Diablo a moment's uneasiness. He took the lead at the start, and handled the colt so well that there was no chance of interference or cutting off at the turns. Mr. Withers's Eccola filly ran well for half a mile, but she retired at the ish, and Diablo's only competitor was Heyday, who showed both speed and courage and compelled Me-Laughlin to ride Diablo for a few strides at the end. the result was never in doubt. It was surprising that it was possible to get so tempting odds as 21-2 place, when the colt was so good a second in the Nursery Stakes. But this was in part explained by the fact that the stable put up the little known and unpopular tot of a jockey, Freeman. Yet this little atom in the saddle handled the colt fairly well, and Heyday beat the whole of the field, with the exception of Diable, as easils as Diable beat him.

Yum Yum was the choice in the betting on the St. Nicholas Handicap at first, but soon so much money went on Swift that although B. A. Haggin thought well of Yum Yum's chances and backed her, Swift was made a decided favorite, with Yum Yum second choice. The Dwyers agreed with Mr. Haggin believing that Yum Yum would win. Yum Yum, however carried 112 pounds, as stated in yesterday's morning papers, instead of 107 pounds, as the programme had it, and although she ran well and showed all her speed. Swift went away so fast and so far in the first quarter mile, with little Anderson doing his best to leave the rest of the field hopelessly in the rear, that Yum Yum was never able to overtake We may not hear much more nonsense about Swift's inability to win with 110 pounds. When she is well ridden, and those who control her really wish to win, she runs well enough with 110 pounds, or even more, at any time. The Lamasney party had high hopes of Climax, but Swift and Yum Yum left him so far behind in the first half mile that he never

The Dwyers believed that Bella B. could take up 125 pounds and concede Specialty ten and Inverwick fifteen in the Hunter Stakes at a mile and three-quarters, but they underestimated the speed and staying power of Inverwick, The is a granddaughter of Lexington. Inverwick led every stride of the way, Taylor judging the pace remarkably well for him. Specialty was hopelessly beaten a half-mile from the finish, and dropped far back. When the two were straightened out in the last quarter-mile, Murphy began whipping Bella B., who was then two lengths behind Inverwick, but it did no good, for the more he whipped the bigger the gap which Inverwak opeden, and the Withers filly cantered home.

Mr. Withers nodestly received the congratulations of his friends on the success of his filly. Some of those friends who bet on the races, an induigence which Mr. Withers never permits himself, were not altogether happy, because My. Withers told them before the race that he was not at all confident that Inverwick would win. If the master of Brookdale had been sanguine, all his friends and acquaintances would have backed Inverwick with as much freedom and boldness as they backed the Mimi filly for the Nursery Stakes.

In the fourth race, by the special weight conditions, Prince Royal was left in at 114 pounds. Every bookmaker believed him a practical certainty at this weight, and most of them declined to bet against him, although some stout-hearted ones kept up 1 to 3 to the close. The cult lay back until the last furiong, when Garrison brought him up with a rush and won in the eastest possible manner, with Rupert second, Kaloolah a poor third.

The Dwyer Brothers said in answer to all frequires before the fifth race that Bessle June was in good condition, but the distance was rather short, 1,400 yards, for her to show herself to the best advantage, and they were afraid that Brait might beat her. Nevertheless, she was made a good favorite. But all the Western turfmen and their friends backed Paragon. This is an exceptionally fast four-year-old, some of whose running this year ha up 125 pounds and concede Specialty ten and Inverwick fifteen in the Hunter Stakes at a mile and

An extremely bad start. Al Reed, Huntress and Satis Au extremely bad start. Al Reed, Huntress and Satis-faction, the favored ones at the fail of the flag, made the running for six furiongs, when Al Reed dropped out. Satisfaction led into the hemestretch, a neck before Huntress, Wynwood close up and Stockton trying in vain to squeeze through the ruck. The favorite's backers gradually lost hope as they watched Hayward's inef-fectual efforts to visco by montantic striking discofectual efforts to piace his mount within striking distance of the flying lightweights in front. Four times in the of the flying lightweights in front. Four times in the course of the journey was Stockton pocketed and shut out, and it began to look as if he would never find an opening. Even in the homestretch he was in difficulties, for Hayward, finding himself unable to go between Huntress and Satisfaction, was forced to go round them. But when at last, after great tribulation, Stockton found a clear track before him, he showed astonishing speed and got up in time to win the hardest race of his life by a length,

Huntress a head before Wynwood. No bid for the winner. THE JEROME PARK ENTRIES TO-DAY. The Champagne Stakes at Jerome Park to-day will certainly afford a contest of great interest and an exciting finish. Salvator should undoubtedly win after his recent magnificent performances, but Champagne Charlie, with seven pounds the advantage in the weights, will press him hard, and Mr. Withers's Mimi filly will also run well, as her two races have probably done har good. There are light weights also in the strong field to make the pace lively all

Badge ought to win the second race at a mile, while Lelex may run second. Ovid has now won two races, and it is not her habit to run well more

In the Nahopae Handicap at a mile an eighth, Terra Cotta, Climax, and Para-gon are certain to make a fast and well-fought race. as Raceland, Santalene, Montagu, Fligaway, and others are expected to start. Raceland ought to win ints, with Montague second, although Santalene will make a strong bid.

Danbury, Conn., Oct. 5.-To-day is a general holiday here. The schools, factories and stores are closed and everybody is at the Danbury Fair, which seems, even after twenty consecutive years, to maintain its claims as the "Donnybrook of New-England." This was "Danbury Pay" and upward of 18,000 people were present. REPUBLICAN-LABOR FUSION IN MISSOURI. From The St. Louis American Celt.

From The St. Louis American Celt.

We are in a position to say that there is no longer a doubt of a fusion between the Union Labor and the Republican parties in Missouri. Everybody familiar with the opposition to Dave Francis saw that this would be the best. The desire of the representatives of the workingmen and farmers to co-operate in the movement against the Mossback Democracy is now perfectly evident. The fact stares every one in the face that it will prove dangerous to the masses of the people to elevate to the gubernatorial chair a man of Francis's stamp. The Democrats nominated him because he had a "bart." The Republican and Union Labor parties are now preparing to march under one banner to redeem "grand oid Missoury from Mossback rule. Down with Francis!

MASS-MEETING OF FEATHER WORKERS. A mass-meeting of the women employed in the feather industry in this city was held last night in the small hall of Cooper Union. Letters were received from Joseph Kaufmann, No. 5 Bleeckerst., and Thomas H. Wood & Co., feather manufacturers, stating that there was no necessity for a reduction in wages, and that they would be gratified if the girls, by organizing, could prevent a reduction. The speakers were Joseph Kaufmain, Mary Burg, Mrs. Josephine Shaw Lowell and Edward King. Mrs. Lowell will speak at a meeting of feather workers on Tuesday, when the employes of four factories will be

IS IT YELLOW FEVER OR MALARIA? TWO PATIENTS SUBJECTED TO A CRITICAL EX-

AMINATION-MONEY FOR THE SUFFERERS. A man was taken on Wednesday night from a steamer just arrived from Galveston to the Chambers Street Hospital. He was ill with a fever, and his skin had an unhealthy yellowish color. The man's name is William Ryan, and he left England six weeks ago. He is a stoker, thirty-three years old. The physicians at the hospital were satisfied that Ryan had nothing worse than malarial fever with a touch of jaundice, and gave this diagnosis. At 11 a. m. yesterday the man was sent to the New-York Hos-pital, where a thorough and careful examination was made. The physician who made the examination expressed the conviction with considerable emphasis that the patient did not have yellow fever, and said that the case was malaria. The man's blood had been examined, he said, and was found full of malarial

The employes of the Dock Department, ninety in all, yet lerday left $175 at the Mayor's office, which had been contributed by them to the fund for the yellow fever sufferers. The collection was made through the efforts of Max Drucker, one of the employes. The Mayor yesterday received $546.55.

THE OUTLOOK AT DECATUR GLOOMY. Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 5 (Special).-A most disressing state of affairs at Decatur is reported to-day. The weather has suddenly turned warmer, it is raining and many new cases of fever are expected to develop by to-morrow. There were seven new cases and one ath to-day. Among the new cases are Dr. R. V Williams, who is the fourth physician to take the fever. It is reported that women and children are begging for bread. The relief committee today telegraphed the Mayor of this city, asking that provision be sent at once, and a carload was sent up to-night.

QUERIES OF ANXIOUS VOTERS.

NOT LONG ENOUGH IN NEWARK.

Sir: Being a citizen and having been a resident of New-York City for the last twenty years and having moved both residence and business to this city on April 3, 1888, I wish to ask whether I am entitled to cast a vote for President at the coming election.
Yours respectfully, REPUBLICAN.

HIS RESIDENCE STILL IN BROOKLYN.

Tothe Editor of The Tribune. Sir: A friend of mine, who had been living with his wife and mother-in-law in Brooklyn for three years, entered the employ of a New-York firm about two months ago. He than began to board in New-York on week days, but every Saturday goes back to Brooklyn to spend Sunday with his wife at what he calls his home. All his private correspondence is carried on under his Brooklyn address. Please let us know whether he is entitled to vote in Brooklyn and you may save a vote for Harrison and Morton.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: An Englishman who wishes to vote for Harrison and Protection wishes me to find out through The Tribune whether he can vote this year if he has been in this country five years and should take his papers out now, having neglected to do so before.

He also wants to know where to go to get them.

HE HAD BETTER TAKE OUT HIS PAPERS. To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: I was born in Canada, and came to this country 18 years ago; am now twenty-eight years old. My father declared his intention of becoming a citizen ten years ago, but never went any further. Will his declaration before I became of age give me the right to vote, or will I have to take out naturalization papers myself! I have voted for the last 7 years without any trouble, but would like to know as it would lose four votes if challenged, as I have three brothers in the same fix.

But if you left this country for a temporary object, having in contemplation, throughout your absence, the purpose to retain and return to your old residence in this State, the law considers that your residence is still here, even though your absence extended through several years and you would now have the right to exercise the right of franchise as if you had not been away .- Ed.)

HIS VOTE IS PERFECTLY LEGAL.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: I have a man in my employ whose parents, though foreigners, lived in this country (his father a naturalized citizen) before his birth. A SUCCESSFUL PARADE IN BROOKLYN. THOUSANDS MARCHING THROUGH THE PRINCE

PAL STREETS-SPEECHES ON THE REVIEWS

The parade of the Republican clubs and other unic formed organizations in Brooklyn last evening was a complete success. The thorough organization effected early in the campaign and the full equipment pro-vided for the various bodies served to make the display excel anything seen in Brooklyn in previous campaigns. The crowds of sight-seers swarmed in every available place.

ore 8 o'clock Grand Marshal John W. Jones and his staff were at the fountain at Bedford and Division aves., attending to the formation of the various companies in the divisions. The Grand Marshal was assisted by Assistant Grand Marshal John Eueger, Adjutant-General and Chief of Staff Judson C. Mangam, Assistant Adjutant-General Frank L. R. Tetamore, Chief of Cavalry Peter Bertch, Chief Aide-de-Camp Andrew W. Baird. The lines were formed in Bedfordave. and the cross streets in the Nineteenth Ward. The general formation was according to the following Marshal J. Warren Tway, comprised the Harrison and Morton clubs of the Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth and Eighteenth Wards, several Young Republican Clubs and batteries, two Tippecanos clubs, and a number of protection organizations.

Marshal John Cook commanded the South Brooklyn Division, including all the organizations of the First, second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth and Tenth Wards. In the Bedford Division, led by W. B. Park inson, jr., were the Harrison and Morton clubs and other organizations of the Seventh, Twentieth, Twentyfirst, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Wards, Colonel H. H. Beadle con-Ward organizations and several independent bodies.

The route was through Bedford ave., Lafayette-ave. and Schermerhorn-st., to Clinton-st, where the reviewing stand was erected. From that point the march was in Clinton-st., Atlantic-ave., Hicks, Cranberry, Henry and Pierrepont sts., to Fultor-st. At the last moment the route was changed from Joralemon-st., owing to the illness of the wife of A. D. Wheelock. On the reviewing stand were of A. D. wheelock. On the reviewing stand were senator J. Sloat Fassett, president of the League of Republican Chubs; J. S. T. Stranahan, Colonel Goodlove, Franklin Woodruff, ex-Senator Griswold, David A. Baldwin, James W. Birkett and Theodore B. Willis, While waiting for the parade Mr. Willis Introduced Jesse Johnson, S. W. Forrester and Senator Fassett, who made brief and telling speeches to the crowd filling the street. The head of the column reached the reviewing stand at 11 o'clock.

The house of Arnold, Constable & Co. is displaying ill and winter importations of evening silks and brecades and are showing an immense assortment of rich, long wraps, mantles and English jackets. The royal slik, the new weave of the season, is shown in plain brocaded effects and in stripes, strewn with figures in all-over pattern, or simply outlined on the edge with irregular scalands of wild flowers. A heavy satin-striped royal silk, in shades of golden brown, outlined in the same color, but in lighter tone, with marguerites. Another silk of the same weave is striped in an Oriental medley of color, figured with crescents. Still other sliks are nearly, figured with crescents. Still other sliks are nearly covered with huge palm leaves and other intricate designs, which look as if they might have been copied in pattern and colors from a Valley cashmere shawi. A beautiful striped evening silk shows cream white satin stripes about two inches in width, side by side with armure silk in deep ceries color, and an all-over pattern in jardiniere effect cover the width of the silk. A plain silk in ceries is shown with this for the petitions, from and trimming and facing to the rest of the dross, which will be made of the figured silk. Peat de soie silks in soft-medium tones of color, are shown in plain and in pard and a quarter lengths, with deep borders of dark velvet wrought across one end for the front breadth of the Directoire and other gowns intended for church or dressy wear.

Bordered woollens in cashmere, serges, cords and camel's hair effects are finished with figured borders, brocaded in wool in contrasting colors or lighter shades of the same color. There are also striped borders in plain, wide bands, or in several even ribbou bands, a satin stripe alternating with a heavy corded silk band. there are others in the pattern of great forms or palm leaves. Fine herring-bone striped woollens, stripes and broken lines, and fine checks and small plaids are sold in cheviots for entire costumes, as are the gayer fancy plaids and Scotch plaids, which are shown in dull, rich

A large assortment of rich carriage wraps, long winter cloaks and jackets and mantles, are shown in the depart-ments devoted to these goods. Fine plain cloths, with a smooth face, figured vigognes, and striped and place a smooth race, figured vigogaes, and striped and paint cheviots and homespun goods are made up for plain wear, while plushes and matalasse silks, in the new patterns of the season, are shown in cloaks and rediagotes to tended for elaborate dress. The handsomest black cloaks have a touch of Oriental color, which is woven through these patterns.

A CALL TO THE REV. S. G. LINES. The Rev. Samuel Gregory Lines has been called by the Church of the Beloved Disciple, at Madison-ave, and Eighty-ninth-st., to fill the place made vacant by the death of the Rev. Arthur H. Warner. The new rectar was born in Great Bend, Penn., in 1840. He was graduated at the Philadelphia Divinity School, and then spent several years as rector at Florence, N. J. He next took several years as rector at Florence, N. J. He next took charge of a parish in Binghamton, where he remained four years. His unceasing work at St. Luke's, San Francisco, broke down his health, and he was sent by the bishop as a missionary to Santa Barbara, in the southern part of the State. From there he went to England and took an active part in the East Lendon Mission. On and took an active part in the East Lendon Mission.
